A Conversation With Morgan Freeman About God

By Yoram Hazony, September 19, 2016

As I've reported in previous letters, I spent a couple of days with Morgan Freeman last fall filming for his new miniseries "The Story of God," which aired on National Geographic this spring. In two episodes of the miniseries, you can see us walking around the Old City of Jerusalem and talking about God. You can see a clip from the show below.

Full episodes of the series are available for purchase here
